The Eastern-Atlantic Student Research Forum (ESRF) is a three-day international scientific meeting hosted by the University of Miami Miller School of Medicine. Medical students, M.D./Ph.D. and graduate students, and residents/interns from medical institutions throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, Canada and Europe are eligible to participate in the presentation of original basic science and clinical research. Our aim is to promote collegiality and encourage the pursuit of biomedical research among these future physicians and scientists.

Presentations of original research in both oral and poster formats are sought in all areas of research. All students wishing to participate in the 2016 ESRF must submit an abstract. Presenters with approved abstracts will receive an official invitation to attend the conference.

Additional guidelines for abstracts and eligibility for participation rules can be obtained on the ESRF website.

Main criteria considered for acceptance:
1. Presenter MUST be the first author
2. Demonstration of a scientific problem
3. Quality of written content
